FIRST CLAIMS FOR EXEMPTION FILED

They Must be on File With Selection Board Seven Days After Notice is Received

10 DAYS TO FILE AFFIDAVITS

No More Men Will be Called up For Examination Until All Exemptions Are Settled

Claims for exemption are being filed and received by the local selection board. The first 132 men called for physical examination have seven days to file their exemption claims and the board started receiving them this morning. Some misunderstanding over the law has resulted.

After the call has gone out the men have seven days to file claims for exemption. Then after filing the claim for exemption ten days are given in which to file the necessary affidavits supporting the claim for exemption. The local board has discovered that next Wednesday, the day the last batch of 44 men will be examined is the seventh and final day for filing the exemption claims.

The board has suggested that the men desiring to file claims for exemption do so on the day they are in the city to take the physical examination. For instance if a man is in the first forty-four to report, the board suggests that if he wants to file a claim he should do so on that day. The board, however, pointed out that Wednesday was the seventh day for the first 132 men to file their claims.

The local board today appointed Dr. H. V. Logan to act as the second physician member. In case a man is found unfit by Dr. Coleman, then he is to be examined by Dr. Logan.

Then after filing the claims ten days is the limit set for filing the necessary supporting affidavits. All of these blank forms are available at the clerk's office. The instructions issued by the government say: "Your claim of exemption or discharge must be filed within seven days of the day on which notice to you that you are called was posted and mailed. But after you have filed your claim for exemption or discharge you have ten days within which to file proof."

The local board faces another problem in determining the status of members of Company B., and the local medical unit. Many members of both these organizations are among the first men called. One of the claims for exemption is that a man belong in the military service of the United States. Company B will not be in the military service of the United States until Sunday and in the meantime notices to appear have gone forward. The board has decided that these men will not be examined for the present. They are to report, however, according to the original call, as the board must determine whether they are members of the company. The law provides for the postponing of examinations where the board is satisfied the men are members of a military organization.

The work of securing the 66 men, Rush county's quota, is going to be a hard one. For instance, the board cannot act on exemptions until ten days from today. The first affidavits must be filed by this time and then the board has three days to decide, so it will really be thirteen days from today before the first men will be either denied exemption or exempted.

Before more men are called for examination the board will have passed on the claims and selected as many as possible from the first 132. All of this work will require time and it is doubtful if Rush county's quota is secured much before Sept. 1. The board has tried to make the law plain, but there are many who

BREAK IN GERMAN FRONT

Roumanian Troops Make 12 Mile Breach in Enemy's Lines

(By United Press.)
Washington, Aug. 2.—Roumanian troops have made a 12 miles breach along the thirty mile German front in Roumania, according to a cable received today at the Russian embassy. The Roumanians captured 70 cannon, 100 machine guns and 4,000 prisoners after three days of hard fighting.
"The Germans are in complete disorder and are fleeing in a panic," the cable states.

BUYS STRING OF GAS PLANTS FOR $100,000

A. B. Ayres of Fortville Makes Purchase Which Includes Rush County Property.

PLANTS AT RALEIGH AND MAYS

A. B. Ayres of Fortville, Hancock county, formerly of Rush county, has purchased the gas plants at Cambridge City, Milton, Mays, Raleigh, Straughn, Dublin and Germantown, for approximately $100,000. Mr. Ayres is a gas and oil operator and says that he considers the Rush county natural gas field the best in Indiana. The plants he has purchased are composed of forty wells and seventy miles of pipe lines.

Mr. Ayres is extensively interested in oil and gas projects in Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky. Mr. Ayres is well known in this county because he formerly lived here and because he has taken an active interest in republican politics in this district. He served four years on the republican state committee as representative of the sixth district.

NEW LIBERTY LOAN WILL START NOV. 15

Second Issue of $3,000,000,000 Will be Put on Market at That Time, Officials Say

MORE ELABORATE CAMPAIGN

(By United Press.)
Washington, Aug. 2.—The second Liberty Loan—for $3,000,000,000 will be started November 15, treasury officials said today. Before that time it is planned to issue nearly a billion dollars in treasury short time certificates for immediate needs.

To sell the Liberty Loan bonds a campaign is being planned which will overshadow the organization and publicity which made the first bond issue such a great success.

A new feature which the second campaign will use will be a women's Liberty Loan committee. Several million posters and five million Liberty Loan buttons have been contracted for.

RUSS COMMANDER RESIGNS

General Brusiloff Retires in Favor of General Kornileff

(By United Press.)
Petrograd, August 2.—General Brusiloff today resigned as commander-in-chief of the Russian army. General Kornileff, who directed the recent Russian offensive was named his successor.

Gen. Brusiloff was a "hold-over" in the Russian army from the old monarchical days. When the revolution overturned autocracy in Russia, Brusiloff pledged allegiance to the new order. Gen. Kornileff is peasant-born and rose to his rank through sheer military ability.

ENGLISHMAN FROM TRENCHES TO TALK

Lieut. H. R. Leat, Who Was Disabled While in Service, Will Lecture at Chautauqua

WIFE WILL APPEAR WITH HIM

Pres. Gross of DePauw University to Speak on Saturday—Neither Announced in Program

Chautauqua officials today emphasized the fact that only a few days remain until the opening of the chautauqua and that those who wanted season tickets should buy at once before the guarantors' supply, which are the only ones at $1.50 is completely exhausted. The chautauqua opens Sunday and will continue until Sunday, August 12.

There are two numbers not included on the program, because the contracts were not closed before the programs were printed, which should be noted by everyone, chautauqua officials believe.

One is the lecture on Saturday afternoon by Dr. Fred R. Gross, president of DePauw university, and the other is the appearance of the last Sunday afternoon of Lieutenant H. R. Leat of the English army, and his wife.

Lieutenant Leat saw service in the trenches and was disabled by his arm being paralyzed from a shot. He is devoting his time now to lecturing in the United States about the war and giving the people of America first hand information about the great struggle in which American youth are about to engage.

Mrs. Leat appears with her soldier husband. She is recommended to the program committee as a talented English woman who talks well and interestingly. She will tell something about the important part the women of England have played in the war and show how American women can help the allies defeat Germany.

President Gross of DePauw was to appear here on August 1 in the interest of a patriotic campaign which is being conducted throughout the state by the state superintendent of public instruction, Horace Ellis. But because of the many things going on here recently, the engagement was changed and Dr. Gross was placed on the chautauqua program. Dr. Gross is a very capable man and is expected to bring an inspiring message regarding the war.

One thing which has not been emphasized, but which the program committee says will be one of the most interesting things to be seen this year, will be "The Wonders of Antarctica," a motion picture of Sir Douglas Mawson's trip of exploration to the Antarctic region. The pictures will be shown on Thursday night.

The pictures are said to be the greatest spectacle ever produced, and are made more entertaining by a thrilling story. As many as one million penguins are photographed together and appear at one time on the screen. There are many other birds and animals native to that climate shown.

The pictures give in detail the course of the expedition which cost $300,000. The New York Herald says that the pictures held a large audience spellbound and the Boston Globe, "For real movie thrills they would be hard to beat."

BOY KILLS HIS COMPANION

Anderson, Ind., Aug. 2.—Fred Robinson, 15 years old, was shot and instantly killed last night by his companion, John Stephenson, 19 years old. The bullet entered the heart. Stephenson did not know the gun was loaded. He is in a state of nervous collapse as result of the injury. His condition is serious.

COMPANY B GIVEN ROYAL RECEPTION

Entertained at Fried Chicken Dinner by D. A. R. and W. R. C. in Christian Church Basement

ARE WELCOMED BY MRS. DILL

Capt. Kiplinger Responds, Pointing Out How Appropriate Occasion is—Readings and Music

The men of Company B were given a royal reception when they were entertained with a fried chicken dinner by the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Womans Relief Corps in the basement of the Main Street Christian church last night.

Over one hundred of the volunteers were present and that they enjoyed the feast and the program was manifested by their approval of everything.

The men were welcomed by Mrs. Will Dill, regent of the D. A. R. and the response was made by Captain Kiplinger. They were met at the door of the church by Mrs. Dill and Mrs. Will Trennepohl, president of the W. R. C., representing the two organizations, and led to the banquet hall. Miss Alice Norris played patriotic airs on the piano as the men marched in.

The church basement was very appropriately and beautifully decorated with flags and flowers. The program was given between courses. Mrs. Dill welcomed the guests, congratulating them on the work of their captain and other officers in raising the company to war strength. She told them that the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Womans Relief Corps, as well as the patriotic women of Rush county, were at their backs and would do all they could for the comfort of the men who are going out to fight for their country.

Miss Frances Frazee gave a group of readings and was assisted in the first number by Miss Norma Smith at the piano. B. F. Miller sang a patriotic song, the words of which are Wilbur D. Nesbit's poem, "Your Flag and My Flag." The music was written especially for the Daughters of the American Revolution and was sung for the first time in Rushville last night.

After the last course had been served, Captain Kiplinger replied to the address of Welcome. He pointed out that it was especially fitting that the Daughters of the American Revolution, representing the men who died in the great American revolution, and the Womans Relief Corps, ancestors of the men who fought in the civil war, should give a dinner for the men who are going out to fight for liberty, the same cause for which their ancestors fought and died. He complimented the women highly for the dinner they served and assured the two organizations that the men would do their best.

Mrs. Conover gave two recitations and the Rev. C. M. Yocum spoke briefly. He told the men that if they fought as well as they ate, the United States would win the war. He insisted that they be careful of their behavior because the allies would judge the American people by their conduct. Miss Norris played patriotic music on the piano as the men marched from the building.

$245,000,000 MORE LOANS

Washington, Aug. 2.—Additional loans of $185,000,000 to Great Britain and $160,000,000 to France were made by the government yesterday. This brings the total loaned to the allies up to $1,868,000,000 or more than 63 per cent of the total of $3,000,000,000 authorized by congress last April. The loans are expected to cover the needs of Great Britain and France in this market during August.

DENIES RUMOR OF DISASTER

Secretary Baker Says no Misfortune Has Befallen U. S. Forces

(By United Press.)
Washington, Aug. 2.—Answering rumors as to an alleged disaster in America's forces, Secretary of War Baker made the following statement today:

"I have no hesitancy in saying that not a syllable has reached the war department to believe that any misfortune has met our forces on land and sea."

MAKES HIS PLANS SUBJECT TO CHANGE

Capt. Kiplinger Will Take Co. B to Fair Ground if They Are Not Ordered to Ft. Harrison

IS IN INDIANAPOLIS TODAY

Capt. Kiplinger of Company B. is making two-way arrangements for the mobilization of the company into federal service next Sunday. It is not certain that the company will be sent to Fort Harrison and for this reason, in addition to making arrangements to go to the fort, he is also planning on taking the men to the Rush county fair grounds.

The latest word from Indianapolis was to the effect that the companies would be mobilized at their home stations and remain there for a few days before going to the fort. Because of the uncertainty of the situation Capt. Kiplinger has instructed all members of the company to bring a knife, fork, spoon, plate and cup with them when they report and be ready either to go to the fair grounds or to Fort Harrison. Capt. Kiplinger was in Indianapolis this morning trying to find out something definite.

SLACKERS ORDERED CERTIFIED TO ARMY

All Those Who Fail to Obey Within Five Days Will be Reported to Adjutant General

OFFICER WILL TAKE ACTION

(By United Press.)
Washington, Aug. 2.—President Wilson today ordered that all slackers who failed to appear for draft examination be reported to the department of justice and certified into the national army by the adjutant general of the state.

Should these men fail to report to the adjutant general within five days after notified of certification into the army they will be reported to the adjutant general of the army for his action.

TO HALT DRIVE TO MAKE NATION DRY

Prohibition Leader in House Says Vote May be Postponed Until December

WATSON AND NEW ARE FOR IT

Senators Vote on Resolution to Submit Prohibition Appendage to States, 65 to 20

Senator James E. Watson of this city and Senator Harry S. New of Indianapolis, United States senators from Indiana, both voted in favor of the submission of the dry amendment to the states yesterday afternoon. They were two of 29 republicans who supported the bill. Thirty-six democrats voted for the bill and 12 against it. Eight republicans cast their votes against the resolution.

(By United Press.)
Washington, Aug. 2.—The drive to make the nation dry is temporarily halted. Due to a house agreement to consider only war measures the prohibition amendment passed by the senate last night will probably go over to December.

"It is likely that no action will be taken by the house before the new congress convenes," said Representative Webb, dry leader today. "When it comes up it will pass overwhelmingly."

Washington, Aug. 2.—A resolution for submission to the states of a prohibition amendment to the Federal constitution was adopted late yesterday by the senate. The vote was 65 to 20, eight more than the necessary two-thirds.

As adopted the resolution contains a provision that the states must be asked to ratify the amendment within six years. The house still must act on the resolution.

The proposed constitutional amendment is the first initiated by congress since that providing for popular election of United States senators, approved in 1911. It is the first time that either branch of congress has approved a constitutional amendment for prohibition. A few years ago a similar resolution in the house received a majority, but failed of the required two-thirds.

Prohibition leaders of the house now claim enough votes to insure submission of an amendment to the states. When the resolution can be considered in the house is uncertain, but its friends will seek early discussion.

The senate's action came after three days' debate. All efforts to amend the resolution failed except for the addition of Senator Harding's amendment fixing the six years' time limit within which three-fourths of the states must ratify the amendment to make it effective. This was approved, 56 to 23.

BEING A CLOSE-UP OF SOME OF BRITAIN'S YOUTHFUL BIRDMEN

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(U. F. Staff Correspondent)

With the Brits' Armies in the Field, July 3.—(By Mail)—"The air game is a young man's game." Axiom of every European army.

Today I stood on a British aerodrome just behind the lines watching the practice flights of the youngsters stationed there when a speck in the eastern sky caused some one to remark:

"Here comes a bird! It's Pat. Watch him."

I watched. At 120 miles an hour the speck came at us. Suddenly, at a height of about a mile the machine slowly turned over sideways, then plunged earthward upside-down.

"He's done himself in!" someone exclaimed.

It certainly looked so. Pat's machine, the engine stopped, was plunging earthward, perpendicularly, spinning round and round on its own axis. Then, suddenly it straightened out flat, went a hundred yards and shot up into the air, again perpendicularly. Slowly, gracefully the aeroplane turned over on its back, again upside down, looped the loop twice, flew on straight, rolled over and over, plunged sideways, went into another nosedive first with a right hand spin than a left hand one, and so on until he had everyone gasping for breath.

Finally the machine came down and lit on the field. Out of the pilot's seat climbed a hooded, goggled being which, with one quick jerk tore hood and goggles from head and face and behold: A kid, a boy, a stripling just turned 20.

It was Pat, star pilot, Boche-killer, blushing and smiling like a sweet girl graduate. He wasn't swanking, nor swaggering, but behaving exactly like any kid home from school after algebra and football. For that is just the way he looked—like a kid who has done a little mathematics and considerable football—hair tumbled, face red and glowing, eyes sparkling.

Nobody asked him if there had been anything doing over the line, not any more than one brother asks another that question when they meet at home after office hours. But, as you shall see, it had been what you or I would call a rather busy day. However I did not find that out until later—the next day, in fact, when I read the air reports.

An hour after Pat had come down I saw him again. This time he was washed and combed and had on his slacks—which is English army stuff for trousers—instead of his breeches and leggings. He was in the R. F. C. reading-room, a room in a shack and next door to the dining room. He and another kid—a major if you please—in an air pilot's uniform were singing:

"Hallelujah! I'm a bum!
Hallelujah! Bum again!
Hallelujah! Give us a handout
To save us from sin."

This verse was sung in a deep bass, to the well known revivalist tune, then, as the next lines were reached, the bass changed into the high falsette of the farmer's wife as she stands on the back porch:

"Oh, why don't you work
As other men do?"

And then the bass again, imitating the bum:

"How the hell can I work
When there's no work to do?"

There was nothing evil, nothing sacrilegious about it. Nothing more devilish than healthy boys, with bright, clean minds. These were just kids having fun.

Outside on a court leveled and laid out in what was recently a court-field, four more kids were playing tennis across a net made of wire originally intended to keep trenches from caving in. Near this was another court, a badminton one, and here four more beardless boche-killers were raqueting feathered globules about like mad. All day they had been fighting in the air, miles above the earth, waylaying, stalking Prussian airmen in the clouds—these school-kids—and now they were having a bit of relaxation before dinner. More kids still were grouped about a tent on the edge of the badminton court and a hilarious contest was going on seeing who could climb over the roof of the tent in quickest time. The winner was the padre, the airman's chaplain—a bit of a good man that he is—who came sliding down the nearside of the steep tent-roof crying as he came:

"Here comes a perfectly good person!"

And the kids about him laughed like kids will at a Punch and Judy show, over the antics of their padre who influences them like a real father.

The next day I read the air reports. I found all these kids had been in a big fight that very day. Thirty-nine of them had fought over 60 German airmen and had bested them. They had sent seven enemy machines crashing through the clouds to the ground, bombed two railway stations, given the range for any number of direct hits on Prussian artillery, dived at, and silenced a number of anti-aircraft guns which were hampering them in their work.

And Pat?
Pat had attacked four German Albatross machines single-handed, and scattered them, all save one which he riddled with his bullets and flung head over heels three miles to the earth where it smashed and blazed and glowed until it was cinders, its pilot and observing officer perishing in the crash.

And then, Pat, attacked in his turn by ten enemy machines as he flew alone three miles above the ground, escaped by a "nose spin" a literal drop out of the blue such as I had seen him do that afternoon over the aerodrome.

When I read these reports two thoughts chased themselves round and round in my head. One was:
"The air game is a young man's game."

The other was in the guise of a haunting tune:

"Hallelujah! Give us a handout
Hallelujah! I'm a bum!
Hallelujah! Bum again!
To save us from sin."

The laughter of Pat, the boy Boche-killer, as he came back in deep, burlesque tones imitating the bum's reply to the farmer's wife, was part of the music:

"Howthehell can I work
When there's no work to do!"

RUNS OVER A BLIND MAN

Speeders Arouse People of Blue Ridge to Action

Joseph Peck, a blind man, 70 years old, of Blue Ridge was struck by an automobile there last night, sustaining painful injuries. The auto was occupied by three women and a man and the only recognition of the accident was an increase of speed to get out of town. It was said the car was running at a high rate of speed and that no notice of Mr. Peck was taken. One of his feet was mashed and a long gash was inflicted on one of his legs. He also suffered from a nervous shock. As a result of the accident the people of the little town are determined to stamp out speeding and a lesson will be taught common.

PARENT SHIP IS GREAT OUTFIT

Destroyers Can Get All Necessary Repairs From This Floating Manufacturing Plant

CONTAINING BIG STORE HOUSE

English Would Call Her Depot Ship—Proves Foresight of Her Builders

By WHEELER J. WEBB
(U. F. Staff Correspondent.)

With The American Destroyer Flo-tilla in British Waters, June 28 (By Mail)—"We can make most anything a destroyer wants—from an anchor to a needle."

An American sailor, doing his bit aboard the big parent ship that looks after the brood of destroyers, delivered himself of the tribute to the great war vessel as he filed away at a big piece of brass. The metal had been cast right there on the ship to make a propeller for a small boat and he was now taking off some of the rough edges.

The destroyer that wanted that propeller didn't have to go ashore to get the work done. Instead the order was sent to the floating workshop which was turning out the screw in quick time and with the very best guarantee of superior workmanship.

On another deck William Cline, ex-chef at some of the most expensive hotels in America, was standing at his table lading food for lusty young American sailors. Stewards were filing to his table with empty trays, having them refilled, and then surrying back to the mess-room where hungry youngsters moved in a cafeteria line to get their lunch.

"I cooked in hotels in Atlantic City where they charged fancy high prices," said Cline, "But the food was no better than what we are serving this minute to the boys on this ship."

Rations are unknown. The luncheon bill was: vegetable soup, cold ham and beef, plenty of bread and butter, tapioca pudding and coffee. The sailor Oliver Twist may keep on coming back for more till he has had enough.

This luncheon included an item that King George and Lloyd George do not have today—pure white bread. The big flour magazines are stuffed with sacks of unadulterated flour and when the white-clad bakers have cleaned up the last of it there will be more coming from the United States.

The parent ship supplies the destroyers with bread. It also contains the department store where sailors replenish their lockers. There is a barbershop fitted with white-enamel-ed equipment. And there is a hospital where human repairs go on while the workshops are fixing dam-

FIRST OF THREE SILO MEETINGS TOMORROW

C. M. McConnell Will Conduct Campaign in County Showing Their Value in Food Conservation

HERE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The first of three meetings to be held in Rush county to stimulate the erection of silos will be held tomorrow night in Carthage. C. M. McConnell, representing the state committee on food production and conservation will address all of the meetings. Saturday afternoon at three o'clock he will speak in Rushville at the assembly room, court house and Saturday night at New Salem.

It is being pointed out to farmers that with silos they will be better able to care for their live stock the coming winter and in this way increase the meat supply. At the same time a silo saves the corn and the farmer is able to get the best use of it. These meetings are being held all over the state and as a result many silos will be built.

There's a laundry, a bank, a post-office, a miniature ice-cream factory, an electrical shop, a carpenter shop—there's even a jail for offending citizens of the floating community. The submarine-hunters may see a board ship the best American movies—often better than those shown at night in the single movie-show which this base town supports.

The English would call her a depot ship. To the American Navy she is a parent ship and the submarine sight-of her builders.

ITALY FAILS TO GET SUPPLIES SHE WANTS

Is Displeased at Failure Because She Believes Help Would Turn War Balance.

DELICATE SITUATION ARISES

(By United Press.)
Washington, Aug. 2.—Italy is displeased at her failure to get from her allies—particularly America—supplies she says are needed and which she claims could swerve the war balance. This displeasure has apparently caused a delicate situation.

For several days past the English, French and Russian ambassadors have consulted at length with Italian envoys. The Italian viewpoint is known to be bordering on resentment.

Meantime Italian propaganda is trying to force the United States to make war on Austria and has said the word that Italy could win the war if she could get coal, munitions and money for an offensive on Austria. Military men say the Italian situation is impossible from a military standpoint.

"Italy could end the war by Christmas and open the way for peace by New Years," said a man close to the Italian ambassador today. "The war cannot be won the way America is fighting it, however, for it would require 4,000,000 men to whip Germany and by the time the United States could get this many men to the western front Germany will have won the war."

BRITISH SMASH THE GERMANS BACK AGAIN

Retake Position Near Ypres-Roulies Railroad Where Enemy Resisted

OLD LINE RE-ESTABLISHED

(By United Press.)
London, Aug. 2.—British troops again smashed back the Germans and retook the position in the neighborhood of the Ypres-Roulies railroad where the German troops had resisted the advance, Field Marshal Haig reported today.

"In the neighborhood of the Ypres-Roulies railroad, where the enemy yesterday succeeded at great cost in gaining a foothold in advance positions our counter attack drove them back re-establishing our former line," the British commander-in-chief reported.

BAD WEATHER REIGNS

(By United Press.)
Paris, Aug. 2.—Continued bad weather in Belgium with but scant fighting was reported in today's official statement. On other fronts, however, raiding and intense artillery action was reported.

GERMAN WAR COUNCIL MEETS

STEAL THE OFFICIAL REGISTRANTS LIST

Thieves Enter Office of Hugh Landen, Chairman of Exemption Board Outside Indianapolis

AUTHORITIES SEEK THIEVES

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 2.—The official list of registrants of Marion county, outside of Indianapolis, was stolen from the office of Hugh Landen, chairman of the exemption board some time last night. The theft became known shortly before noon when Landen notified state conscription agent, Jesse Eschbach and also appealed to federal authorities.

German agents are blamed for the theft. The list contained 2,691 names from which lists were being prepared for the first draft. George Murcock, special investigator of the department of justice immediately took charge of the hunt for those responsible for the robbery.

LABOR SITUATION IN STATE NORMAL

Farmers Having Little Difficulty in Getting Help, According to Purdue University

SCHOOL CHILDREN HELPING

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 2.—The farm labor situation in Indiana is normal, according to information given out today from the office of G. I. Christie, superintendent of the extension department of Purdue University. While there is a slight shortage in some sections, the situation has been somewhat relieved by the modern Maude Mueller's who are working with rakes and hoes to increase Indiana's food production.

While considerable harvesting already is in progress, the general harvesting has not started, which may account to some extent for the normal farm labor supply. Reports from county agents so far indicate that the labor supply at present about equals the demand.

Enlistment of school children and boy scouts in the farm labor movement is said to have proved of considerable aid in making up the deficit in the ranks of professional farm hands, many of whom have volunteered to federal service or will be called out in the draft.

A number of prominent Indiana farmers are urging that men found physically unsound and discharged from military service under the draft law, but whose defects are of minor nature, be placed on farms. The movement has met with the approval of county agents and hundreds of farmers.

—Mrs. Wilfred Grindle, Mrs. O. M. Yocum and son Cyrus, Mrs. Scott Hosier, the Misses Gladys Chadwick, Florene Gronier, Viola Jay, Laverne Davis, Mary McKee and Deryl Case left for Bethany Park today where they will attend the Missionary Circle conference.

Omer Adams was released from jail yesterday when his bondsman paid his fine. The fine was an old one and had been stayed. When it had not been paid at the end of the 90 day period Adams was arrested.

Value of Chautauquas.

The chautauqua movement was inaugurated in New York state a few years ago and has spread rapidly to all parts of the country. The remarkable growth of the movement is due to the fact that it meets the demand for wholesome entertainment and leaves after it an elevating influence that is beneficial to any community. The public demands entertainment and it can be provided by a week's program of good music and clean humor seasoned with the heavier thoughts of able and prominent speakers.

Through the chautauqua an opportunity is given for the impartial and open discussion of the principal political and social questions before the people. The hearers of the arguments may not be convinced by the reasoning of the speakers but they leave the grounds with new information which causes them to do some thinking on their own account. The bureaus that provide the talent recognized early that the success of the courses depended upon the character of those on the program, and as a rule the speakers and entertainers live clean lives as can be plainly seen by their work on the platform.

In no other way than by the chautauqua can the people of a community hear so many prominent speakers and noted entertainers as so small a cost. The talent is brought to a city on a co-operative plan. The public pays a small admission fee and is entitled to hear any of the numbers they desire. The men who constitute the board of directors make no charge for their services and their time and energy because they realize the splendid influence upon the community in which they reside. The profits, if there should be any, are left in the treasury of the association to be used by the directors the succeeding year. In this manner the association becomes self supporting and is able to guarantee the payment of all the bills incurred. The association belongs to the community and its earnings are used for its benefits.

A chautauqua is certainly entitled to the loyal and undivided support of the people. In it education and amusement are combined. Here in Rush county we appreciate its value more this year than formerly because we know what it is worth.

Come to think of it, China forgot to change rulers again last week.

Hurrah! How's This

Cincinnati authority says corns dry up and lift out with fingers.

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lock-jaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freecorn can be obtained at little cost from the drug store but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You simply apply a few drops of freecorn on a tender, aching corn and soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

This drug is sticky but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without burning or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.

Government Inconsistency

While the government is issuing bulletins daily commending the newspapers for their loyal support of the Red Cross, the Liberty Loan and the conscription law and its operations, congress is proposing to levy a special tax not as other forms of business are to be taxed during the war, but under a special provision calling for a discriminating tax as well as a higher postage rate.

It is estimated conservatively by authorities that the newspapers of the United States gave $50,000,000 worth of space free of charge to the Liberty Loan campaign. They supported the Red Cross war fund and made it a success. The draft idea was unpopular in this country because of abuse to which it was put during the civil war, and when the government decided on a new draft principle it appealed to the newspapers for space in which to explain it. The Indianapolis News lately had a very appropriate editorial on this very subject, pointing out that the newspapers not only gave the space to help the draft, but that they went farther and put into plain language the labored government essays on the subject. Continuing the News sums up the position of the newspapers in relation to the war:

The next step was the registration. In preparing the cards, organizing the districts and explaining the process of the law, the government printing office carried the expense, but because it had no means of going directly to the men of registration age, the government again appealed to the newspapers, and again the newspapers responded with hundreds of columns of space. The last stage was the drawing of draft numbers, a process in which the government took the smallest part. In fact, it is probable that the newspapers have borne 90 per cent. of the entire cost of the draft. This is entirely aside from the space which they gave to Red Cross and Liberty bond publicity.

The congressional proposal to place what amounted to a destructive tax on the newspaper business was regarded by many as the work of persons in Washington who had reason to fear the results of publicity concerning their records, but the newspapers have not been deceived into taking a vindictive attitude and in retaliation denying the government the use of their facilities. This would accomplish another purpose of the proponents of the newspaper tax, namely the crippling of the government and the strengthening of Germany. It is believed that by this time the government is convinced of the patriotism of the newspapers and that it suspects the motives of those in congress who would prefer that congress work in the dark. The newspapers in short have been an arm of the government, and to tax them out of existence would be suicidal.

If you have borrowed this paper from your neighbor, be sure to return it when you have finished reading it. He subscribed because he wanted it.

A worthy cause has nothing to fear from its active foes. It is the slacker who blocks the wheels of progress.

Once more has nature asserted her own laws. A small boy has just died from eating green apples.

ADDS EQUIPMENT AND MEN

A. L. Tribble to Push Eleventh Street Paving to Completion

A. L. Tribble, contractor for the paving of Eleventh street, moved in some new equipment and about thirty men from Noblesville yesterday and the county commissioners are in hopes that he will rush the road to completion. Tribble has completed the Noblesville contract and will now bend his efforts to the local contest. The excavating and grading from the intersection of Main and Eleventh street east to the Fort Wayne road has been completed and it is believed he will start putting in concrete in a short time. The equipment brought here yesterday consists of two large motor trucks and several teams of horses and mules.

¶ This is a clean sweep of all the Low Shoes in our store, including not only lines in which the sizes are broken, but complete lines in all the newest lasts and Leathers. The most wanted models—the finest shoes in the store.

¶ These prices—$2.95 to $5.45—are less than the same shoes would cost to make today.

¶ We are overstocked on these goods because the weather upset normal purchasing. Folks do not buy low shoes till they need them. There were only 10 clear days in April and May—and scarcely more in June. This put us behind on our regular sales and we are going to sacrifice these goods without reservation—as it is the policy of this store never to carry goods from one season to another.

¶ This is your opportunity as most of the summer is still before you. We want to remind you again: This is Not an Ordinary Shoe Sale. Ordinary reductions mean little. These are standard values—shoes of known merit, of fixed prices—and this sale represents a striking and genuine economy. We stand back of every pair—They are the Best.

The same rate of Reduction goes for the LITTLE FOLKS. A few pair left of the old stock which is being offered at a ridiculously low price.

SHORTSTOPS ARE ABOVE AVERAGE

Those in The Big Leagues Are The Best to be Found in Recent Years

EVERY CLUB WELL SUPPLIED

Ty Cobb Is Having His Greatest Year—Greasy Neal Is Also Going Good

By H. C. HAMILTON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, August 2—Good shortstops, instead of being a scarce article, as so often has been the case in recent years, are prevalent in both big leagues. A sudden attack of aggravated shortstops seems to have assailed both major circuits.

One of them, Kopf of the Reds, is getting very small attention these days, but he is hitting .250 and fielding sensationally. His batting average has been better than Donie Bush's and no one yet has called Bush a poor shortstop.

Connie Mack has two excellent shortstops in Dugan and Witt. Neither is much force as a hitter right now, but either is likely to improve in that department. Witt graduated from high school to wear his major league spangles.

Fletcher, Maranville, and Olson are now veterans. Even Olson is playing a fine game this year. Bancroft is a star and so is Rogers Hornsby. Chuck Wortman of the Cubs is as brilliant a fielder as the major leagues hold. Ward of the Pirates is another demon fielder.

Right down the line with Risberg, Peckinpah, Bush, Chapman, Lavian Scott, Witt, Dugan and Shanks. They're all high class, and it will take high-speed men to dislodge any one of them.

Ty Cobb is having one of his greatest years—at a time when most outfielders are laying away the glove and uniform. He's at the top of the American league in hitting and travelling at a pace that Tris Speaker nor anyone else is likely to excel.

When Cobb is through they'll try for his mark for many years to come. Baseball never will see many Cobbs—perhaps none.

The veteran Earl Neale—Oil in the vernacular of the Bronx—is a Cincinnati sensation. He is hitting with the select and fielding in his old style. Environment and the pep of winning apparently are responsible.

Chairman of Emergency Fleet Corporation Says Construction is of Vital Importance.

SHIP BUILDERS WILL MEET

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 2.—Both steel and wooden ships must be built and built quickly, Rear Admiral Capp, chairman of the Emergency Fleet Corporation told ship builders here today.

"Matters brought to my attention only this morning indicates the vital importance of pressing this construction program. We are in this war far more seriously than a vast majority realize," Capp declared.

It was his first public utterance since taking charge of the ship building work for the government. The meeting of ship builders was called by Chairman Hurley of the ship board following reports that men were delaying work to gain more profitable schedules.

AVIATOR TO BE AN ADDED ATTRACTION

Lawrence Brown Will Provide Thrill Which Oldfield and Depalma Can't Give in The Race

EVENTS SET FOR SATURDAY

Two Famous Race Drivers Will Meet For Last Time To Settle Tie On Match Races

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 2.—Lawrence Brown, known from coast to coast as Amazing Brown, will be an added attraction at the Barney Oldfield-Ralph Depalma speed races at the Fair Grounds, August 4. Brown is one of the most daring aviators who has exhibited in this country. His deeds of daring are said to be the most thrilling ever witnessed. He will loop the loop for the Hoosier fans between races.

It is said that Brown loops the loops within 500 feet of the ground. To see a man do this, will be one of the most wonderful things any Indianapolis fan ever witnessed. It is a known fact that aviators do their loop the loop stunts at a much greater height than this. This is done so that in the event of a flop-over, causing the motor to choke or stop, the aviator has sufficient distance between himself and the earth in which to control his machine.

Brown has been in the West and has been in the East doing his deeds of daring, but has never exhibited in the central states. This will mark his first time in the central section of the United States. So thrilling are his flights, that many thousands flock to see him demonstrate on the Western coast. He is a product of the West and in a short time will, no doubt, establish himself as the foremost loop the loop artist in the aviation game.

Along with the announcement that Brown will be an added attraction for the races, comes the sad news to Depalma, that he will be forced to rely upon the speed of his old Packard to win his way to the dirt track championship. The A. A. A. has notified the Italian dare devil that his 250 horse power Packard is much too large for a one mile dirt track and that he will have to use his 300 cubic inch machine.

It is not known whether Oldfield protested the use of this machine or not, but the rivalry between these two men has become so intense since they started this series of three races for the championship, that they hardly speak to each other. Many arguments have arisen in conjunction with the running of the races and it is hoped that they will settle all of these arguments for all time in their coming races here. August 4 will mark the final appearance of these two men together, which in itself, means they will have their hearts and souls in winning.

Mrs. O. M. Dale was hostess to the members of the Wednesday afternoon Bridge club, yesterday at her home in North Main street. The usual pleasant hours were spent over cards and the service of dainty refreshments concluded the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Willey entertained at dinner Wednesday evening at their home near Gowdy Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Simpson, of this city, Harry and Ralph Willey of Gowdy and Claude Simpson of Roswell, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Jackson and daughter, Miss Mary, had as dinner guests yesterday, Mrs. Julia Glidden and Miss Sue Glidden of Lewisville and Miss Nellie Shaw of New York City.

Mrs. Raymond Hargrove entertained a few girls with a theater party, last evening, complimentary to Mary Riley of Madison, Wis., the house guest of Brenda Kinsinger. After leaving the theater, the guests were taken to the Greek. The girls enjoying the affair were: Helen Lambert, Brenda and Marian Kinsinger, Margaret Giffin, Florence Fleehart and Mary Riley.

The Franchise League of Noble township met Tuesday afternoon in the Applegate school house, with the president, Mrs. Armstrong, as leader. A short program was carried out and Miss Margaret Metcalf read a paper on, "Secret Service." There was an open discussion on, "Food Conservation." During the business session the members decided not to hold a meeting during August and to start the regular meetings again in September.

Friends here have received word of the marriage of Mrs. Lydia McMahan of Los Angeles, Cal., and Dr. T. G. Coultas of Jersey City, N. J., which took place at the home of the bride's nephew, Leonidas R. Mauzy, and Mrs. Mauzy, 2424 Park Avenue, Indianapolis, last evening. Mrs. Coultas was the widow of the late Samuel McMahan, for many years a practicing physician in this city, and who at one time, published the Rushville Graphic in partnership with John K. Gowdy. She is the daughter of the late Lenoidas Sexton, one time a prominent attorney in this city and Lieutenant-governor of Indiana and a member of congress. The McMahan home stood where the Main Street Christian church now stands and the site was sold to the church by the family. After the death of her husband, Mrs. Coultas moved to Indianapolis and later to Los Angeles, where she has resided for several years. Older residents will recall Mrs. Coultas as Lydia Sexton and later as Lydia McMahan.

Many of the social activities of the week have centered about Mrs. Neff Ashworth, who was recently married. At ten o'clock this morning, Miss Hannah Morris, assisted by Miss Fanny Stiers, entertained with a beautifully appointed breakfast at the home of Miss Morris in East Fifth street. The center of the table was embellished with a large french basket of yellow garden flowers. Yellow ribbon was arranged from the basket to the pretty yellow place cards, which marked the places for the sixteen guests. Dainty corsage bouquets were given the girls as favors. All of the appointments of the elegant three course breakfast were carried out in yellow. Margaret Giffin, Marian Kinsinger and Jessie and Isabel Allen assisted in serving the bounteous meal.

A handkerchief shower was also a feature of the gala occasion, Mrs. Ashworth receiving many beautiful hand-made handkerchiefs. The presents were carried in on a small umbrella. The guests included Mrs. Ashworth, Miss Ruth Ashworth of Connersville, Mrs. Hubert Innis, Mrs. C. J. Tucker, Mrs. Jack Knecht and the Misses Jessie Kitchen, Vira Clark, Jessie and Mary Anderson, Helen and Esther Black, Mayme Hiner and Clorene Amos.

The second of a series of recitals was given yesterday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, by the pupils of Miss Norma Smith, assisted by Miss Frances Frazee, reader. The program was carried out as follows:

FOLLOW RULES CLOSELY

Inexperienced Canners Will Meet Many Difficulties, He Points Out

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 2.—Canning difficulties and how to avoid them was the subject of a lecture today to Indiana housewives, delivered by Harry E. Barnard, unofficial food dictator for Indiana, through the medium of the United Press. Barnard's newspaper-lecture is the first of a series he will deliver to Indiana women, telling them how they may give valuable aid against the country's enemy by helping conserve the nation's food supply.

stocks that would otherwise waste in field and orchards is the ambition of thousands of housewives who have for years neglected to use the preserving kettle," Barnard said, "The food they can is their contribution to the conservation of our food supply.

"Careful adherence to the rules for canning will prevent most spoilage. The home economic experts of Ohio State University have pointed out some of the difficulties that the inexperienced canner will meet.

"Rubbers popping out from beneath the top during sterilizing may be due to poor rubber, to too large a rubber, or to too much pressure from the top. The top and rubber must be removed, a new rubber and top placed and the jar returned to the canner for about five minutes.

"Spoilings may result from the use of old rubbers, from keeping jars in a place that has alternately cold and warm temperatures, from breaking the seal of jars by attempting to tighten the tops after the can has cooled.

"Jars may break when there is not free circulation of water about the cans, when a cold can is placed in hot water, or a hot one in cold water, when a can is placed in a cool draft.

"Shrinkage of vegetables may be caused by insufficient blanching. An objectionable strong flavor may be due to improper blanching and cold dipping.

"Bubbles that show after sterilization do not affect the keeping qualities of the products.

"Cloudy appearance of the liquid in the cans may be due merely to over-cooking which forces out the interior of the produce or to very hard water.

"Flat souring" of corn, peas, beans, and asparagus, is a condition giving slightly sour taste and objectionable odor, and may be due to allowing the vegetable to stand too long. As soon as each jar is filled, it should be set in the canner so that cooking is not delayed.

"Over-cooking may not always be objectionable, but it is likely to happen with fruits which require a short time for sterilization. Cooking is going on while the water is coming to the boiling point, and if this time is prolonged, some deduction should be made from the time given for sterilizing.

BULLETIN WILL BE RUSHED TO PEOPLE

One Being Prepared on How to Use Fresh Fruits and Vegetables to Conserve Food.

AN EMERGENCY CAMPAIGN

Washington, Aug. 2.—How to Use Fresh Fruit and Vegetables as Conservators of Staple Food, is the subject of a bulletin to be issued within the next 24 hours by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, it was announced today. In order that this bulletin may be ready in practically unlimited quantities for the emergency campaign now being conducted by the Department to save perishable fruits and vegetables which are going to waste in 24 states of the union, orders were given this morning to the government printing office to put this bulletin on fast presses.

Between 40,000 and 50,000 copies can be turned out daily, and this rate will be kept up as long as the need and the demand last. Caroline L. Hunt, scientific assistant, office of home economics, is the author of the bulletin, which is known as Farmers' Bulletin 871. Copies will be mailed free on request to the Division of Publications, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Amusements

The Lyric offers the usual program tonight with comedy predominating. The first is a comedy, "Keep Her Quiet Till I Come Back With the Money." Kingsley Benedict is featured. The second is a drama entitled "No. 10 Westbound." It is a railway drama in two acts. In addition three other reels of comedy will be shown. Tomorrow Little Marie McAllister will be seen in "Do Children Count."

The Princess offers William Desmond and Margery Wilson in the powerful drama, "The Last of the Ingrams" for the feature drama tonight. WHY HOUSEWIVES SHOULD DRY FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

By GEORGE MARTIN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, August 2.—Uncle Sam, through his Department of Agriculture, today expressed the belief that one of the best ways American housewives can help conserve our food supply is by drying fruits and vegetables at home.

His experts have prepared a short course in this food saving system, so popular among grandmothers of the American housewives of today. It is designed to suit your kitchen, no matter how small or large your domestic establishment may be.

The importance attached to the plan by the Grand Old Man of the Stars and Stripes is seen in his statement that you are efficiently following the nation's food conservation policy if you slice and dry so much as a single carrot purchased when carrots are in season and cheap.

This first story is to tell you why fruit and vegetable drying at home is important. The other seven articles, all short and to the point, will tell you principles and methods of drying, how to prepare various foods for drying; home-made apparatus you need, detailed directions for drying, precautions against insects, how to pack and store dried foods and recipes for cooking them tastily.

Uncle Sam believes you should buy fruits and vegetables and dry them when they are in season and cheap, because they will constitute a reserve supply and cut your food bill later when things are higher.

In Europe dried foods are one of the biggest items of food conservation. All surplus fruits and vegetables in city markets are dried in municipal drying plants. Other government plants are built in the trucking regions. Itinerant drying machines go from farm to farm in other sections.

Dried foods are very good. Many housewives even today prefer dried sweet corn to canned. Dried pumpkin and squash are excellent for pies. Snap beans strung on threads and dried above the stove are fine.

This country is producing enormous quantities of perishable foods this year which can be saved entirely if the surplus is dried.

On farms, where root cellars and canning facilities are better, it is better to preserve foods in those ways. You can help do this.

Dried foods will not freeze and can be shipped more conveniently than canned foods in winter.

With simple and inexpensive facilities, housewives everywhere can save quantities of food too small to can. A few sweet potatoes, apples, peas or even a single turnip can be dried and saved.

This would soon give you enough for a meal. Small lots of cabbage, carrots, turnips, potatoes and onions, saved by drying, can be combined for soups and stews.

"The manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited.

"This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the constitution by the Legislatures of the several states, as provided in the constitution, within six years from the date of the submission thereof to the states by the congress.

"The congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

Although most of the debate on the resolution had been perfunctory, the usual scenes marking the end of warmly contested legislative fights were re-enacted today. Brief, spirited speeches under a ten-minute limit were made to crowded galleries, with the senate sweltering in one of the hottest of summer days.

On the final roll call several senators said to oppose prohibition voted for the resolution, desiring, they said, to have the wet and dry battle transferred from the national capitol to the states and to prevent prohibition propaganda from impeding other matters before congress.

Arranges For Conference to Iron Out Trouble
4,000 MINERS ARE ON STRIKE
Tentative Plans For Formation of State Guard Companies Are Under Consideration

Indianapolis, August 2.—Will J. Freeman, of Terre Haute, representing the coal production committee of the State Council of Defense through the Public Service Commission, today arranged for a conference between President Jackson of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad and President E. Stewart of the United Mine Workers, in an effort to arrange for the return of 4,000 miners to their places and prevent the further curtailment of coal production in the state. Mr. Freeman reported to the State Council that because of the failure of the railroad to comply with an order of the Public Service Commission to furnish the miners with coaches in which to ride to and from their work, the men had refused to work. The commission's order that a part of the necessary coaches be provided in sixty days, which time is now up, and the remainder as soon as possible, Mr. Freeman said had not been observed.

"Although the subject is a delicate one, I feel that I would not be doing my full duty to this council if I did not mention the very great danger of a serious coal shortage in Indiana next winter without any reference to the question of price," said H. R. Kurrie, president of the Monon railroad and a member of the council. Mr. Kurrie added that the coal mines are not producing coal enough to fill all the cars his road might supply, and coal is not being stored for domestic purposes although the road was meeting 100 percent of the demand. He said that consumers should be aroused to the situation before the cold weather interferes with the efficiency of the railroads and the demand cannot be supplied at any price. Mr. Freeman said the average car supply in Indiana now awes "only about 70 percent."

Following Mr. Kurrie's statement Evans Woollen moved that the special coal committee of the council confer with Governor James P. Goodrich with a view to making public some definite statement on the coal situation. The committee, of which William G. Irwin is chairman, conferred with the Governor and promised a report and statement at the next session of the council Wednesday of next week.

In reply to an inquiry presented to the council by Charles Fox, as coming from the mine workers, as to what "enemy influences" referred to in a recent appeal to coal producers for a maximum of tonnage, were at work in the state, it was stated by Mr. Kurrie that recently dynamite was found in a car load of coal with wires protruding at the surface; and Mr. Freeman reported a request from local No. 2 of Bicknell asking that steps be taken to guard against the introduction of poisonous gases into the mine shaft, jeopardizing the lives of the miners.

Tentative plans for the formation of state guard companies were presented to the council by E. M. Wilson, chairman of the committee on military affairs. The proposed new military organizations would consist of fifty men with three officers to each company; between 18 and 45 years of age and exempt from federal conscription; meetings to be held weekly with at least 60 percent of membership present; service to be without pay except upon special assignment by the Governor.

Jas L. Keach, of the food production and distribution committee, discussing the potato situation said that the reason that commission men do not buy Indiana potatoes for market is that the Indiana crop is not grown for commercial purposes, is not graded and shipped in ear lots. This was in explanation of the failure of certain Indiana growers to find a market for their product at a price proportionate to the retail price in Indianapolis and other large cities. He said Indiana farmers will not haul their crop for less than $5 per barrel while Virginia growers are today offering ear lots at $2.85 per barrel.

Speakers will be sent over the state to urge the importance of organizing the United States Boy's Working Reserve, at the instance of Isaac D. Straus, Indiana director of this work. Mr. Straus stated that certain Indiana communities do not realize that the Boy's reserve must be depended upon to replace the man-power soon to be withdrawn for service in the army. The utilization of boys and girls for service as waiters in hotels, restaurants etc., is another phase of the work under consideration. Indiana chautauquas will be addressed upon the purpose and importance of this work. It is expected that a means of free transportation by volunteer automobile fleets will be worked out for the enrolled boys, by Mr. Straus.

FIRST CLAIMS FOR EXEMPTION FILED

They Must be on File With Selection Board Seven Days After Notice is Received

10 DAYS TO FILE AFFIDAVITS

No More Men Will be Called up For Examination Until All Exemptions Are Settled

Claims for exemption are being filed and received by the local selection board. The first 132 men called for physical examination have seven days to file their exemption claims and the board started receiving them this morning. Some misunderstanding over the law has resulted.

After the call has gone out the men have seven days to file claims for exemption. Then after filing the claim for exemption ten days are given in which to file the necessary affidavits supporting the claim for exemption. The local board has discovered that next Wednesday, the day the last batch of 44 men will be examined is the seventh and final day for filing the exemption claims.

The board has suggested that the men desiring to file claims for exemption do so on the day they are in the city to take the physical examination. For instance if a man is in the first forty-four to report, the board suggests that if he wants to file a claim he should do so on that day. The board, however, pointed out that Wednesday was the seventh day for the first 132 men to file their claims.

The local board today appointed Dr. H. V. Logan to act as the second physician member. In case a man is found unfit by Dr. Coleman, then he is to be examined by Dr. Logan.

Then after filing the claims ten days is the limit set for filing the necessary supporting affidavits. All of these blank forms are available at the clerk's office. The instructions issued by the government say: "Your claim of exemption or discharge must be filed within seven days of the day on which notice is given to you that you are called and mailed. But after you have filed your claim for exemption or discharge you have ten days within which to file proof."

The local board faces another problem in determining the status of members of Company B, and the local medical unit. Many members of both these organizations are among the first men called. One of the claims for exemption is that a man belong in the military service of the United States. Company B will not be in the military service of the United States until Sunday and in the meantime notices to appear have gone forward. The board has decided that these men will not be examined for the present. They are to report, however, according to the original call, as the board must determine whether they are members of the company. The law provides for the postponing of examinations where the board is satisfied the men are members of a military organization.

The work of securing the 66 men, Rush county's quota, is going to be a hard one. For instance, the board cannot act on exemptions until ten days from today. The first affidavits must be filed by this time and then the board has three days to decide, so it will really be thirteen days from today before the first men will be either denied exemption or exempted.

Before more men are called for examination the board will have passed on the claims and selected as many as possible from the first 132. All of this work will require time and it is doubtful if Rush county's quota is secured much before Sept. 1. The board has tried to make this law plain, but there are many who

BREAK IN GERMAN FRONT

Roumanian Troops Make 12 Mile Breach in Enemy's Lines

(By United Press.)
Washington, Aug. 2.—Roumanian troops have made a 12 miles breach along the thirty mile German front in Roumania, according to a cable received today at the Russian embassy. The Roumanians captured 70 cannon, 100 machine guns and 4,000 prisoners after three days of hard fighting.
"The Germans are in complete disorder and are fleeing in a panic," the cable states.

BUYS STRING OF GAS PLANTS FOR $100,000

A. B. Ayres of Fortville Makes Purchase Which Includes Rush County Property.

PLANTS AT RALEIGH AND MAYS

A. B. Ayres of Fortville, Hancock county, formerly of Rush county, has purchased the gas plants at Cambridge City, Milton, Mays, Raleigh, Straughn, Dublin and Germantown, for approximately $100,000. Mr. Ayres is a gas and oil operator and says that he considers the Rush county natural gas field the best in Indiana. The plants he has purchased are composed of forty wells and seventy miles of pipe lines.

Mr. Ayres is extensively interested in oil and gas projects in Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky. Mr. Ayres is well known in this county because he formerly lived here and because he has taken an active interest in republican politics in this district. He served four years on the republican state committee as representative of the sixth district.

NEW LIBERTY LOAN WILL START NOV. 15

Second Issue of $3,000,000,000 Will be Put on Market at That Time, Officials Say

MORE ELABORATE CAMPAIGN

(By United Press.)
Washington, Aug. 2.—The second Liberty Loan—for $3,000,000,000—will be started November 15, treasury officials said today. Before that time it is planned to issue nearly a billion dollars in treasury short time certificates for immediate needs.

To sell the Liberty Loan bonds a campaign is being planned which will overshadow the organization and publicity which made the first bond issue such a great success.

A new feature which the second campaign will use will be a women's Liberty Loan committee. Several million posters and five million Liberty Loan buttons have been contracted for.

RUSS COMMANDER RESIGNS

General Brusiloff Retires in Favor of General Korniloff

(By United Press.)
Petrograd, August 2.—General Brusiloff today resigned as commander-in-chief of the Russian army. General Korniloff, who directed the recent Russian offensive, was named his successor.

Gen. Brusiloff was a "hold-over" in the Russian army from the old monarchial days. When the revolution overthrown autocracy in Russia, Brusiloff pledged allegiance to the new order. Gen. Korniloff is peasant-born and rose to his rank through sheer military ability.

ENGLISHMAN FROM TRENCHES TO TALK

Lieut. H. R. Leat, Who Was Disabled While in Service, Will Lecture at Chautauqua

WIFE WILL APPEAR WITH HIM

Pres. Gross of DePauw University to Speak on Saturday—Neither Announced in Program

Chautauqua officials today emphasized the fact that only a few days remain until the opening of the chautauqua and that those who wanted season tickets should buy at once before the guarantors' supply, which are the only ones at $1.50 is completely exhausted. The chautauqua opens Sunday and will continue until Sunday, August 12.

There are two numbers not included on the program, because the contracts were not closed before the programs were printed, which should be noted by everyone, chautauqua officials believe.

One is the lecture on Saturday afternoon by Dr. Fred R. Gross, president of DePauw university, and the other is the appearance the last Sunday afternoon of Lieutenant H. R. Leat of the English army, and his wife.

Lieutenant Leat saw service in the trenches and was disabled by his arm being paralyzed from a shot. He is devoting his time now to lecturing in the United States about the war and giving the people of America first hand information about the great struggle in which American youth are about to engage.

Mrs. Leat appears with her soldier husband. She is recommended to the program committee as a talented English woman who talks well and interestingly. She will tell something about the important part the women of England have played in the war and show how American women can help the allies defeat Germany.

President Gross of DePauw was to appear here on August 1 in the interest of a patriotic campaign which is being conducted throughout the state by the state superintendent of public instruction, Horace Ellis. But because of the many things going on here recently, the engagement was changed and Dr. Gross was placed on the chautauqua program. Dr. Gross is a very capable man and is expected to bring an inspiring message regarding the war.

One thing which has not been emphasized, but which the program committee says will be one of the most interesting things to be seen this year, will be "The Wonders of Antarctica," a motion picture of Sir Douglas Mawson's trip of exploration to the Antarctic region. The pictures will be shown on Thursday night.

The pictures are said to be the greatest spectacle ever produced, and are made more entertaining by a thrilling story. As many as one million penguins are photographed together and appear at one time on the screen. There are many other birds and animals native to that climate shown.

The pictures give in detail the course of the expedition which cost $300,000. The New York Herald says that the pictures held a large audience spellbound and the Boston Globe, "For real movie thrills they would be hard to beat."

BOY KILLS HIS COMPANION

Anderson, Ind., Aug. 2.—Fred Robinson, 15 years old, was shot and instantly killed last night by his companion, John Stephenson, 19 years old. The bullet entered the heart. Stephenson did not know the gun was loaded. He is in a state of nervous collapse as result of the injury. His condition is serious.

COMPANY B GIVEN ROYAL RECEPTION

Entertained at Fried Chicken Dinner by D. A. R. and W. R. C. in Christian Church Basement

ARE WELCOMED BY MRS. DILL

Capt. Kiplinger Responds, Pointing Out How Appropriate Occasion is—Readings and Music

The men of Company B were given a royal reception when they were entertained with a fried chicken dinner by the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Womans Relief Corps in the basement of the Main Street Christian church last night.

Over one hundred of the volunteers were present and that they enjoyed the feast and the program was manifested by their approval of everything.

The men were welcomed by Mrs. Will Dill, regent of the D. A. R. and the response was made by Captain Kiplinger. They were met at the door of the church by Mrs. Dill and Mrs. Will Trennepohl, president of the W. R. C., representing the two organizations, and led to the banquet hall. Miss Alice Norris played patriotic airs on the piano as the men marched in.

The church basement was very appropriately and beautifully decorated with flags and flowers. The program was given between courses. Mrs. Dill welcomed the guests, congratulating them on the work of their captain and other officers in raising the company to war strength. She told them that the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Womans Relief Corps, as well as the patriotic women of Rush county, were at their backs and would do all they could for the comfort of the men who are going out to fight for their country.

Miss Frances Frazee gave a group of readings and was assisted in the first number by Miss Norma Smith at the piano. B. F. Miller sang a patriotic song, the words of which are Wilbur D. Nesbit's poem, "Your Flag and My Flag." The music was written especially for the Daughters of the American Revolution and was sung for the first time in Rushville last night.

After the last course had been served, Captain Kiplinger replied to the address of Welcome. He pointed out that it was especially fitting that the Daughters of the American Revolution, representing the men who died in the great American revolution, and the Womans Relief Corps, ancestors of the men who fought in the civil war, should give a dinner for the men who are going out to fight for liberty, the same cause for which their ancestors fought and died. He complimented the women highly for the dinner they served and assured the two organizations that the men would do their best.

Mrs. Conover gave two recitations and the Rev. C. M. Yeom spoke briefly. He told the men that if they fought as well as they ate, the United States would win the war. He insisted that they be careful of their behavior because the allies would judge the American people by their conduct. Miss Norris played patriotic music on the piano as the men marched from the building.

$245,000,000 MORE LOANS

Washington, Aug. 2.—Additional loans of $185,000,000 to Great Britain and $160,000,000 to France were made by the government yesterday. This brings the total loaned to the allies up to $1,868,000,000 or more than 63 per cent of the total of $3,000,000,000 authorized by congress last April. The loans are expected to cover the needs of Great Britain and France in this market during August.

DENIES RUMOR OF DISASTER

Secretary Baker Says no Misfortune Has Befallen U. S. Forces

(By United Press.)
Washington, Aug. 2.—Answering rumors as to an alleged disaster in America's forces, Secretary of War Baker made the following statement today:

"I have no hesitancy in saying that not a syllable has reached the war department to believe that any misfortune has met our forces on land and sea."

MAKES HIS PLANS SUBJECT TO CHANGE

Capt. Kiplinger Will Take Co. B to Fair Ground if They Are Not Ordered to Ft. Harrison

IS IN INDIANAPOLIS TODAY

Capt. Kiplinger of Company B, is making two-way arrangements for the mobilization of the company into federal service next Sunday. It is not certain that the company will be sent to Fort Harrison and for this reason, in addition to making arrangements to go to the fort, he is also planning on taking the men to the Rush county fair grounds.

The latest word from Indianapolis was to the effect that the companies would be mobilized at their home stations and remain there for a few days before going to the fort. Because of the uncertainty of the situation Capt. Kiplinger has instructed all members of the company to bring a knife, fork, spoon, plate and cup with them when they report and be ready either to go to the fair grounds or to Fort Harrison. Capt. Kiplinger was in Indianapolis this morning trying to find out something definite.

SLACKERS ORDERED CERTIFIED TO ARMY

All Those Who Fail to Obey Within Five Days Will be Reported to Adjutant General

OFFICER WILL TAKE ACTION

(By United Press.)
Washington, Aug. 2.—President Wilson today ordered that all slackers who failed to appear for draft examination be reported to the department of justice and certified into the national army by the adjutant general of the state.

Should these men fail to report to the adjutant general within five days after notified of certification into the army they will be reported to the adjutant general of the army for his action.

TO HALT DRIVE TO MAKE NATION DRY

Prohibition Leader in House Says Vote May be Postponed Until December

WATSON AND NEW ARE FOR IT

Senators Vote on Resolution to Submit Prohibition Appendage to States, 65 to 20

Senator James E. Watson of this city and Senator Harry S. New of Indianapolis, United States senators from Indiana, both voted in favor of the submission of the dry amendment to the states yesterday afternoon. They were two of 29 republicans who supported the bill. Thirty-six democrats voted for the bill and 12 against it. Eight republicans cast their votes against the resolution.

(By United Press.)
Washington, Aug. 2.—The drive to make the nation dry is temporarily halted. Due to a house agreement to consider only war measures the prohibition amendment passed by the senate last night will probably go over to December.

"It is likely that no action will be taken by the house before the new congress convenes," said Representative Webb, dry leader today. "When it comes up it will pass overwhelmingly."

Washington, Aug. 2.—A resolution for submission to the states of a prohibition amendment to the Federal constitution was adopted late yesterday by the senate. The vote was 65 to 20, eight more than the necessary two-thirds.

As adopted the resolution contains a provision that the states must be asked to ratify the amendment within six years. The house still must act on the resolution.

The proposed constitutional amendment is the first initiated by congress since that providing for popular election of United States senators, approved in 1911. It is the first time that either branch of congress has approved a constitutional amendment for prohibition. A few years ago a similar resolution in the house received a majority, but failed of the required two-thirds.

Prohibition leaders of the house now claim enough votes to insure submission of an amendment to the states. When the resolution can be considered in the house is uncertain, but its friends will seek early discussion.

The senate's action came after three days' debate. All efforts to amend the resolution failed except for the addition of Senator Harding's amendment fixing the six years' time limit within which three-fourths of the states must ratify the amendment to make it effective. This was approved, 56 to 23.

Expression of a German Woman Costs Her Life

Mother of Maine Man, Who Is Close Friend of Man Known Here, Pours Out Heart to Son

CENSOR NOTES SHE WAS SHOT

"The only way to stop the war is to kill the kaiser."

This is the statement of a German woman written in a letter to her son in the United States which cost her life.

A resident of the state of Maine, who is well known and related in Rushville, but whose name can not be mentioned for obvious reasons, has a very close friend whose mother er lived in Germany.

She was an old woman and, in a recent letter to her son, expressed her innermost thoughts in the frank expression: "The only way to stop the war is to kill the kaiser."

The other day the son got the letter. It, of course, had passed through the hands of the German censor. On the back of the letter was written the words: "Your mother was shot this morning."

BEING A CLOSE-UP OF SOME OF BRITAIN'S YOUTHFUL BIRDMEN

By WILLIAM PHILIP SYMMS

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

With the Brits' armies in the field, July 3.—(By Mail)—"The air game is a young man's game," is the axiom of every European army.

Today I stood on a British aerodrome just behind the lines watching the practice flights of the youngsters stationed there when a speck in the eastern sky caused some one to remark:

"Here comes a bird! It's Pat. Watch him."

I watched. At 120 miles an hour the speck came at us. Suddenly, at a height of about a mile the machine slowly turned over sideways, then plunged earthward, upside-down.

"He's done himself in!" someone exclaimed.

It certainly looked so. Pat's machine, the engine stopped, was plunging earthward, perpendicularly, spinning round and round on its own axis. Then, suddenly it straightened out flat, went a hundred yards and shot up into the air, again perpendicularly. Slowly, gracefully the aeroplane turned over on its back, again upside down, looped the loop twice, flew on straight, rolled over and over, plunged sideways, went into another nosedive first with a right hand spin than a left hand one, and so on until he had everyone gasping for breath.

Finally the machine came down and lit on the field. Out of the pilot's seat climbed a hooded, goggled being which, with one quick jerk tore hood and goggles from head and face and behold: A kid, a boy, a stripling just turned 20.

It was Pat, star pilot, Boche-killer, blushing and smiling like a sweet girl graduate. He wasn't swanking, nor swaggering, but behaving exactly like any kid home from school after algebra and football. For that is just the way he looked—like a kid who has done a little mathematics and considerable football—hair tumbled, face red and glowing, eyes sparkling.

Nobody asked him if there had been anything doing over the line, not a word more than one brother asked another that question when they meet at home after office hours. But,

as you shall see, it had been what you or I would call a rather busy day. However I did not find that out until later—the next day, in fact, when I read the air reports.

An hour after Pat had come down I saw him again. This time he was washed and combed and had on his slacks—which is English army stuff for trousers—instead of his breeches and leggings. He was in the R. F. C. reading-room, a room in a shack and next door to the dining room. He and another kid—a major if you please—in an air pilot's uniform were singing:

"Hallelujah! I'm a bum!
Hallelujah! Bum again!
Hallelujah! Give us a handout
To save us from sin."

This verse was sung in a deep bass, to the well known revivalist tune, then, as the next lines were reached, the bass changed into the high falsetto of the farmer's wife as she stands on the back porch:

"Oh, why don't you work
As other men do?"

And then the bass again, imitating the bum:

"How the hell can I work
When there's no work to do?"

There was nothing evil, nothing sacrilegious about it. Nothing more devilish than healthy boys, with bright, clean minds. These were just kids having fun.

Outside on a court leveled and laid out in what was recently a corn-field, four more kids were playing tennis across a net made of wire originally intended to keep trenches from caving in. Near this was another court, a badminton one, and here four more beardless boche-killers were raqueting feathered globules about like mad. All day they had been fighting in the air, miles above the earth, waylaid, stalking Prussian airmen in the clouds—these school-kids—and now they were having a bit of relaxation before dinner. More kids still were grouped about a tent on the edge of the badminton court and a hilarious contest was going on seeing who could climb over the roof of the tent in quickest time.

The winner was the padre, the armistice chaplain—a really good man that he is—who came sliding down the nearside of the steep tent-roof

crying as he came:

"Here comes a perfectly good person!"

And the kids about him laughed like kids will at a Punch and Judy show, over the antics of their padre who influences them like a real father.

The next day I read the air reports. I found all these kids had been in a big fight that very day. Thirty-nine of them had fought over 60 German airmen and had bested them. They had sent seven enemy machines crashing through the clouds to the ground, bombed two railway stations, given the range for any number of direct hits on Prussian artillery, dived at, and silenced a number of anti-aircraft guns which were hampering them in their work.

And Pat? Pat had attacked four German Albatross machines single-handed, and scattered them, all save one which he riddled with his bullets and flung head over heels three miles to the earth where it smashed and blazed and glowed until it was cinders, its pilot and observing officer perishing in the crash.

And then, Pat, attacked in his turn by ten enemy machines as he flew alone three miles above the ground, escaped by a "nose spin" a literal drop out of the blue such as I had seen him do that afternoon over the aerodrome.

When I read these reports two thoughts chased themselves round and round in my head. One was:

"The air game is a young man's game."

The other was in the guise of a haunting tune:

"Hallelujah! Give us a handout
Hallelujah! I'm a bum!
Hallelujah! Bum again!
To save us from sin."

The laughter of Pat, the boy Boche-killer, as he came back in deep, burlesque tones imitating the hum's reply to the farmer's wife, was part of the music:

"Howthehell can I work
When there's no work to do?"

RUNS OVER A BLIND MAN

Speeders Arouse People of Blue Ridge to Action

Joseph Peck, a blind man, 70 years old, of Blue Ridge was struck by an automobile there last night, sustaining painful injuries. The auto was occupied by three women and a man and the only recognition of the accident was an increase of speed to get out of town. It was said the car was running at a high rate of speed and that no notice of Mr. Peck was taken. One of his feet was mashed and a long gash was inflicted on one of his legs. He also suffered from a nervous shock. As a result of the accident the people of the little town are determined to stamp out speeding and a lesson will be taught someone.

PARENT SHIP IS GREAT OUTFIT

Destroyers Can Get All Necessary Repairs From This Floating Manufacturing Plant

CONTAINING BIG STORE HOUSE

English Would Call Her Depot Ship—Proves Foresight of Her Builders

By WHEELER J. WEBB

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

With The American Destroyer Flotilla in British Waters, June 28 (By Mail)—"We can make most anything a destroyer wants—from an anchor to a needle."

An American sailor, doing his bit aboard the big parent ship that looks after the brood of destroyers, delivered himself of the tribute to the great war vessel as he filed away at a big piece of brass. The metal had been cast right there on the ship to make a propeller for a small boat and he was now taking off some of the rough edges.

The destroyer that wanted that propeller didn't have to go ashore to get the work done. Instead the order was sent to the floating workshop which was turning out the screw in quick time and with the very best guarantee of superior workmanship.

On another deck William Cline, ex-chef at some of the most expensive hotels in America, was standing at his table ladling food for lusty young American sailors. Stewards were filing to his table with empty trays, having them refilled, and then surrying back to the mess-room where hungry youngsters moved in a cafeteria line to get their lunch.

"I cooked in hotels in Atlantic City where they charged fancy-high prices," said Cline, "But the food was no better than what we are serving this minute to the boys on this ship."

Rations are unknown. The luncheon bill was: vegetable soup, cold ham and beef, plenty of bread and butter, tapioca pudding and coffee. The sailor Oliver Twist may keep on coming back for more till he has had enough.

This luncheon included an item that King George and Lloyd George do not have today—pure white bread. The big flour magazines are stuffed with sacks of undiluted flour and when the white-clad bakers have cleaned up the last of it there will be more coming from the United States.

The parent ship supplies the destroyers with bread. It also contains the department store where sailors replenish their lockers. There is a barber shop fitted with white enamel and there is a host of other facilities. And there is a host of other facilities. And there is a host of other facilities.

ITALY FAILS TO GET SUPPLIES SHE WANTS

Is Displeased at Failure Because She Believes Help Would Turn War Balance.

DELICATE SITUATION ARISES

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 2.—Italy is displeased at her failure to get from her allies—particularly America—supplies she says are needed and which she claims could swerve the war balance. This displeasure has apparently caused a delicate situation.

For several days past the English, French and Russian ambassadors have consulted at length with Italian envoys. The Italian viewpoint is known to be bordering on resentment. Meantime Italian propaganda is trying to force the United States to make war on Austria and has said he word that Italy could win the war if she could get coal, munitions and money for an offensive on Austria. Military men say the Italian situation is impossible from a military standpoint.

"Italy could end the war by Christmas and open the way for peace by New Years," said a man close to the Italian ambassador today. "The war cannot be won the way America is fighting it, however, for it would require 4,000,000 men to whip Germany and by the time the United States could get this many men to the western front Germany will have won the war."

BRITISH SMASH THE GERMANS BACK AGAIN

Retake Position Near Ypres-Roulies Railroad Where Enemy Resisted

OLD LINE RE-ESTABLISHED

(By United Press.)

London, Aug. 2.—British troops again smashed back the Germans and retook the position in the neighborhood of the Ypres-Roulies railroad where the German troops had resisted the advance, Field Marshal Haig reported today.

"In the neighborhood of the Ypres-Roulies railroad, where the enemy yesterday succeeded at great cost in gaining a foothold in advance positions our counter attack drove them back re-establishing our former line," the British commander-in-chief reported.

BAD WEATHER REIGNS

(By United Press.)

Paris, Aug. 2.—Continued bad weather in Belgium with but scant fighting was reported in today's official statement. On other fronts, however, raiding and intense artillery action was reported.

GERMAN WAR COUNCIL MEETS

(By United Press.)

Amsterdam, Aug. 2.—Presumably because of the great allied drive in Flanders, Kaiser Wilhelm today summoned a special meeting of Germany's war council in Brussels.

LABOR SITUATION IN STATE NORMAL

Farmers Having Little Difficulty in Getting Help, According to Purdue University

SCHOOL CHILDREN HELPING

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 2.—The farm labor situation in Indiana is normal, according to information given out today from the office of G. I. Christie, superintendent of the extension department of Purdue University. While there is a slight shortage in some sections, the situation has been somewhat relieved by the modern Maude Mueller's who are working with rakes and hoes to increase Indiana's food production. While considerable harvesting already is in progress, the general harvesting has not started, which may account to some extent for the normal farm labor supply. Reports from county agents so far indicate that the labor supply at present about equals the demand.

Enlistment of school children and boy scouts in the farm labor movement is said to have proved of considerable aid in making up the deficit in the ranks of professional farm hands, many of whom have volunteered to federal service or will be called out in the draft.

A number of prominent Indiana farmers are urging that men found physically unsound and discharged from military service under the draft law, but whose defects are of minor nature, be placed on farms. This movement has met with the approval of county agents and hundreds of farmers.

—Mrs. Wilfred Grindle, Mrs. O. M. Yocum and son Cyrus, Mrs. Scott Hosier, the Misses Gladys Chadwick, Florence Gronier, Viola Jay, Laverne Davis, Mary McKee and Deryl Case left for Bethany Park today where they will attend the Missionary Circle conference.

Omer Adams was released from jail yesterday when his bondsman paid his fine. The fine was an old one and had been stayed. When it had not been paid at the end of the 90 day period Adams was arrested.

Value of Chautauquas.

The chautauqua movement was inaugurated in New York state a few years ago and has spread rapidly to all parts of the country. The remarkable growth of the movement is due to the fact that it meets the demand for wholesome entertainment and leaves after it an elevating influence that is beneficial to any community. The public demands entertainment and it can be provided by a week's program of good music and clean humor seasoned with the heavier thoughts of able and prominent speakers.

Through the chautauqua an opportunity is given for the impartial and open discussion of the principal political and social questions before the people. The hearers of the arguments may not be convinced by the reasoning of the speakers but they leave the grounds with new information which causes them to do some thinking on their own account. The bureaus that provide the talent recognized early that the success of the courses depended upon the character of those on the program, and as a rule the speakers and entertainers live clean lives as can be plainly seen by their work on the platform.

In no other way than by the chautauqua can the people of a community hear so many prominent speakers and noted entertainers at so small a cost. The talent is brought to a city on a co-operative plan. The public pays a small admission fee and is entitled to hear any of the numbers they desire. The men who constitute the board of directors make no charge for their services and their time and energy because they realize the splendid influence upon the community in which they reside. The profits, if there should be any, are left in the treasury of the association to be used by the directors the succeeding year. In this manner the association becomes self supporting and is able to guarantee the payment of all the bills incurred. The association belongs to the community and its earnings are used for its benefits.

A chautauqua is certainly entitled to the loyal and undivided support of the people. In it education and amusement are combined. Here in Rush county we appreciate its value more this year than formerly because we know what it is worth.

Come to think of it, China forgot to change rulers again last week.

Hurrah! How's This

Cincinnati authority says corns dry up, and lift out with fingers.

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called frezone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You simply apply a few drops of frezone on a tender, aching corn and soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, soft and all, without pain.

This drug is sticky but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without burning or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.

Government Inconsistency

While the government is issuing bulletins daily commending the newspapers for their loyal support of the Red Cross, the Liberty Loan and the conscription law and its operations, congress is proposing to levy a special tax not as other forms of business are to be taxed during the war, but under a special provision calling for a discriminating tax as well as a higher postage rate.

It is estimated conservatively by authorities that the newspapers of the United States gave $50,000,000 worth of space free of charge to the Liberty Loan campaign. They supported the Red Cross war fund and made it a success. The draft idea was unpopular in this country because of abuse to which it was put during the civil war, and when the government decided on a new draft principle it appealed to the newspapers for space in which to explain it. The Indianapolis News lately had a very appropriate editorial on this very subject, pointing out that the newspapers not only gave the space to help the draft, but that they went farther and put into plain language the labored government essays on the subject. Continuing the News sums up the position of the newspapers in relation to the war:

The next step was the registration. In preparing the cards, organizing the districts and explaining the process of the law, the government printing office carried the expense, but because it had no means of going directly to the men of registration age, the government again appealed to the newspapers, and again the newspapers responded with hundreds of columns of space. The last stage was the drawing of draft numbers, a process in which the government took the smallest part. In fact, it is probable that the newspapers have borne 90 per cent. of the entire cost of the draft. This is entirely aside from the space which they gave to Red Cross and Liberty bond publicity.

The congressional proposal to place what amounted to a destructive tax on the newspaper business was regarded by many as the work of persons in Washington who had reason to fear the results of publicity concerning their records, but the newspapers have not been deceived into taking a vindictive attitude and in retaliation denying the government the use of their facilities. This would accomplish another purpose of the proponents of the newspaper tax, namely the crippling of the government and the strengthening of Germany. It is believed that by this time the government is convinced of the patriotism of the newspapers and that it suspects the motives of those in congress who would prefer that congress work in the dark. The newspapers in short have been an arm of the government, and to tax them out of existence would be suicidal.

If you have borrowed this paper from your neighbor, be sure to return it when you have finished reading it. He subscribed because he wanted it.

A worthy cause has nothing to fear from its active foes. It is the slacker who blocks the wheels of progress.

Once more has nature asserted her own laws. A small boy has just died from eating green apples.

ADDS EQUIPMENT AND MEN

A. L. Tribble to Push Eleventh Street Paving to Completion

A. L. Tribble, contractor for the paving of Eleventh street, moved in some new equipment and about thirty men from Noblesville yesterday and the county commissioners are in hopes that he will rush the road to completion. Tribble has completed the Noblesville contract and will now bend his efforts to the local contest. The excavating and grading from the intersection of Main and Eleventh street east to the Fort Wayne road has been completed and it is believed he will start putting in concrete in a short time. The equipment brought here yesterday consists of two large motor trucks and several teams of horses and mules.

¶ This is a clean sweep of all the Low Shoes in our store, including not only lines in which the sizes are broken, but complete lines in all the newest lasts and Leathers. The most wanted models—the finest shoes in the store.

¶ These prices—$2.95 to $5.45—are less than the same shoes would cost to make today.

¶ We are overstocked on these goods because the weather upset normal purchasing. Folks do not buy low shoes till they need them. There were only 10 clear days in April and May—and scarcely more in June. This put us behind on our regular sales and we are going to sacrifice these goods without reservation—as it is the policy of this store never to carry goods from one season to another.

¶ This is your opportunity as most of the summer is still before you. We want to remind you again: This is Not an Ordinary Shoe Sale. Ordinary reductions mean little. These are standard values—shoes of known merit, of fixed prices—and this sale represents a striking and genuine economy. We stand back of every pair—They are the Best.

The same rate of Reduction goes for the LITTLE FOLKS. A few pair left of the old stock which is being offered at a ridiculously low price.

SHORTSTOPS ARE ABOVE AVERAGE AVIATOR TO BE AN ADDED ATTRACTION

Those in The Big Leagues Are The Best to be Found in Recent Years

EVERY CLUB WELL SUPPLIED

Ty Cobb Is Having His Greatest Year—Greasy Neal Is Also Going Good

By H. C. HAMILTON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, August 2.—Good shortstops, instead of being a scarce article, as so often has been the case in recent years, are prevalent in both big leagues. A sudden attack of aggravated shortstops seems to have assailed both major circuits. One of them, Kopf of the Reds, is getting very small attention these days, but he is hitting .250 and fielding sensationally. His batting average has been better than Donie Bush's and no one yet has called Bush a poor shortstop.

Connie Mack has two excellent shortstops in Dugan and Witt. Neither is much force as a hitter right now, but either is likely to improve in that department. Witt graduated from high school to wear his major league spangles.

Fletcher, Maranville, and Olson are now veterans. Even Olson is playing a fine game this year. Bancroft is a star and so is Rogers Hornsby. Chuck Wortman of the Cubs is as brilliant a fielder as the major leagues hold. Ward of the Pirates is another demon fielder.

Right down the line with Risberg, Peckinpah, Bush, Chapman, Lavan Scott, Witt, Dugan and Shanks. They're all high class, and it will take high-speed men to dislodge any one of them.

Ty Cobb is having one of his greatest years—at a time when most outfielders are laying away the glove and uniform. He's at the top of the American league in hitting and travelling at a pace that Tris Speaker nor anyone else is likely to excel.

When Cobb is through they'll try for his mark for many years to come. Baseball never will see many Cobbs—perhaps none.

The veteran Earl Neale—oil in the vernacular of the Bronx—is a Cincinnati sensation. He is hitting with the select and fielding in his old style. Environment and the pep of winning apparently are responsible.

MUST BUILD BOTH KINDS OF VESSELS

Chairman of Emergency Fleet Corporation Says Construction is of Vital Importance.

SHIP BUILDERS WILL MEET

(By United Press.)
Washington, Aug. 2.—Both steel and wooden ships must be built and built quickly, Rear Admiral Capp, chairman of the Emergency Fleet Corporation told ship builders here today.

"Matters brought to my attention only this morning indicates the vital importance of pressing this construction program. We are in this war far more seriously than a vast majority realize," Capp declared.

It was his first public utterance since taking charge of the ship building work for the government. The meeting of ship builders was called by Chairman Hurley of the ship board following reports that men were delaying work to gain more profitable schedules.

REVIVAL STARTS SUNDAY

Lawrence Brown Will Provide Thrill Which Oldfield and Depalma Can't Give in The Race

EVENTS SET FOR SATURDAY

Two Famous Race Drivers Will Meet For Last Time To Settle Tie On Match Races

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 2.—Lawrence Brown, known from coast to coast as Amazing Brown, will be an added attraction at the Barney Oldfield-Ralph Depalma speed races at the Fair Grounds, August 4. Brown is one of the most daring aviators who has exhibited in this country. His deeds of daring are said to be the most thrilling ever witnessed. He will loop the loop for the Hoosier fans between races.

It is said that Brown loops the loops within 500 feet of the ground. To see a man do this, will be one of the most wonderful things any Indianapolis fan ever witnessed. It is a known fact that aviators do their loop the loop stunts at a much greater height than this. This is done so that in the event of a flop-over, causing the motor to choke or stop, the aviator has sufficient distance between himself and the earth in which to control his machine.

Brown has been in the West and has been in the East doing his deeds of daring, but has never exhibited in the central states. This will mark his first time in the central section of the United States. So thrilling are his flights, that many thousands flock to see him demonstrate on the Western coast. He is a product of the West and in a short time will, no doubt, establish himself as the foremost loop the loop artist in the aviation game.

Along with the announcement that Brown will be an added attraction for the races, comes the sad news to Depalma, that he will be forced to rely upon the speed of his old Packard to win his way to the dirt track championship. The A. A. A. has notified the Italian dare devil that his 250 horse power Packard is much too large for a one mile dirt track and that he will have to use his 300 cubic inch machine.

It is not known whether Oldfield protested the use of this machine or not, but the rivalry between these two men has become so intense since they started this series of three races for the championship, that they hardly speak to each other. Many arguments have arisen in conjunction with the running of the races and it is hoped that they will settle all of these arguments for all time in their coming races here. August 4 will mark the final appearance of these two men together, which in itself, means they will have their hearts and souls in winning.

TODAY'S HOOSIER ODDITY

Princeton, Ind., Aug. 2.—The local postoffice has appealed to the public to help conserve the government's paper supply by using two-cent stamps on letters instead of two one's. The appeal was issued following discovery of the fact that use of the green stamps was a fad among feminine residents "because they were so much prettier than the red ones."

SOCIETY

Edited by Miss Katherine Hitt.

Mrs. Knowles Casady will entertain the members of the D. T. club tomorrow afternoon at her home, 224 West Ninth street.

Martha Poe Chapter No. 143, O. E. S. will have their regular meeting tomorrow evening. A good attendance is desired.

Mrs. O. M. Dale was hostess to the members of the Wednesday afternoon Bridge club, yesterday at her home in North Main street. The usual pleasant hours were spent over cards and the service of dainty refreshments concluded the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Willey entertained at dinner Wednesday evening at their home near Gowdy Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Simpson, of this city, Harry and Ralph Willey of Gowdy and Claude Simpson of Roswell, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Jackson and daughter, Miss Mary, had as dinner guests yesterday, Mrs. Julia Glidden and Miss Sue Glidden of Lewisville and Miss Nellie Shaw of New York City.

Mrs. Raymond Hargrove entertained a few girls with a theater party, last evening, complimentary to Mary Riley of Madison, Wis., the house guest of Brenda Kinsinger. After leaving the theater, the guests were taken to the Greek. The girls enjoying the affair were: Helen Lambert, Brenda and Marian Kinsinger, Margaret Giffin, Florence Fleehart and Mary Riley.

The Franchise League of Noble township met Tuesday afternoon in the Applegate school house, with the president, Mrs. Armstrong, as leader. A short program was carried out and Miss Margaret Metcalf read a paper on, "Secret Service." There was an open discussion on, "Food Conservation." During the business session the members decided not to hold a meeting during August and to start the regular meetings again in September.

Friends here have received word of the marriage of Mrs. Lydia McMahon of Los Angeles, Cal., and Dr. T. G. Coultas of Jersey City, N. J., which took place at the home of the bride's nephew, Leonidas R. Mauzy, and Mrs. Mauzy, 2424 Park Avenue, Indianapolis, last evening. Mrs. Coultas was the widow of the late Samuel McMahon, for many years a practicing physician in this city, and who at one time, published the Rushville Graphic in partnership with John K. Gowdy. She is the daughter of the late Lenoidas Sexton, one time a prominent attorney in this city and Lieutenant-governor of Indiana and a member of congress. The McMahon home stood where the Main Street Christian church now stands and the site was sold to the church by the family. After the death of her husband, Mrs. Coultas moved to Indianapolis and later to Los Angeles, where she has resided for several years. Older residents will recall Mrs. Coultas as Lydia Sexton and later as Lydia McMahon.

Many of the social activities of the week have centered about Mrs. Neff Ashworth, who was recently married. At ten o'clock this morning, Miss Hannah Morris, assisted by Miss Fanny Stiers, entertained with a beautifully appointed breakfast at the home of Miss Morris in East Fifth street. The center of the table was embellished with a large French basket of yellow garden flowers. Yellow ribbon was arranged from the basket to the pretty yellow place cards, which marked the places for the sixteen guests. Dainty corsage bouquets were given the girls as favors. All of the appointments of the elegant three course breakfast were carried out in yellow. Margaret Giffin, Marian Kinsinger and Jessie and Isabel Allen assisted in serving the bounteous meal.

A handkerchief shower was also a feature of the gala occasion, Mrs. Ashworth receiving many beautiful hand-made handkerchiefs. The presents were carried in on a small umbrella. The guests included Mrs. Ashworth, Mrs. Ruth Ashworth of Connersville, Mrs. Hubert Innis, Mrs. C. J. Tucker, Mrs. Jack Knecht and the Misses Jessie Kitchen, Vira Clark, Jessie and Mary Anderson, Helen and Esther Black, Mayme Hiner and Clarence Amos.

The second of a series of recitals was given yesterday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, by the pupils of Miss Norma Smith, assisted by Miss Frances Frazee, reader. The program was carried out as follows:

stocks that would otherwise waste in field and orchards is the ambition of thousands of housewives who have for years neglected to use the preserving kettle," Barnard said, "The food they can is their contribution to the conservation of our food supply.

"Careful adherence to the rules for canning will prevent most spoilage. The home economic experts of Ohio State University have pointed out some of the difficulties that the inexperienced canner will meet.

"Rubbers popping out from beneath the top during sterilizing may be due to poor rubber, to too large a rubber, or to too much pressure from the top. The top and rubber must be removed, a new rubber and top placed and the jar returned to the canner for about five minutes.

"Spoilings may result from the use of old rubbers, from keeping jars in a place that has alternately cold and warm temperatures, from breaking the seal of jars by attempting to tighten the tops after the can has cooled.

"Jars may break when there is not free circulation of water about the cans, when a cold can is placed in hot water, or a hot one in cold water, when a can is placed in a cool draft.

"Shrinkage of vegetables may be caused by insufficient blanching. An objectionable strong flavor may be due to improper blanching and cold dipping.

"Bubbles that show after sterilization do not affect the keeping qualities of the products.

"Cloudy appearance of the liquid in the cans may be due merely to over-cooking which forces out the interior of the produce or to very hard water.

"Flat souring of corn, peas, beans, and asparagus, is a condition giving slightly sour taste and objectionable odor, and may be due to allowing the vegetable to stand too long. As soon as each jar is filled, it should be set in the canner so that cooking is not delayed.

"Over-cooking may not always be objectionable, but it is likely to happen with fruits which require a short time for sterilization. Cooking is going on while the water is coming to the boiling point, and if this time is prolonged, some deduction should be made from the time given for sterilizing.

BULLETIN WILL BE RUSHED TO PEOPLE

One Being Prepared on How to Use Fresh Fruits and Vegetables to Conserve Food.

AN EMERGENCY CAMPAIGN

Washington, Aug. 2.—How to Use Fresh Fruit and Vegetables as Conservers of Staple Food, is the subject of a bulletin to be issued within the next 24 hours by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, it was announced today. In order that this bulletin may be ready in practically unlimited quantities for the emergency campaign now being conducted by the Department to save perishable fruits and vegetables which are going to waste in 24 states of the union, orders were given this morning to the government printing office to put this bulletin on fast presses.

Between 40,000 and 50,000 copies can be turned out daily, and this rate will be kept up as long as the need and the demand last. Caroline L. Hunt, scientific assistant, office of home economics, is the author of the bulletin, which is known as Farmers' Bulletin 871. Copies will be mailed free on request to the Division of Publications, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Amusements

The Lyric offers the usual program tonight with comedy predominating. The first is a comedy, "Keep Her Quiet Till I Come Back With the Money." Kingsley Benedict is featured. The second is a drama entitled "No. 10 Westbound." It is a railway drama in two acts. In addition three other reels of comedy will be shown. Tomorrow Little Marie McAllister will be seen in "Do Children Count."

The Princess offers William Desmond and Margery Wilson in the powerful drama, "The Last of the Ingrams" for the feature drama tonight. It is said to tell a fine story and there are many dramatic scenes. In addition to this, the comedy, "Done in Oils" will be shown. Tomorrow Mary Pickford will be seen in the drama "The Pride of the Clan."

W. E. Stone, president of Purdue university, has sent out cards announcing that "in order to co-operate in the movement for increased food production and conservation by allowing students employed on farms to assist in September work the opening of Purdue has been pard of Texas, democrat, would add the following article to the Federal constitution:

"The manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited."

"This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the constitution by the Legislatures of the several states, as provided in the constitution, within six years from the date of the submission thereof to the states by the congress."

"The congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

Although most of the debate on the resolution had been perfunctory, the usual scenes marking the end of warmly contested legislative fights were re-enacted today. Brief, spirited speeches under a ten-minute limit were made to crowded galleries, with the senate sweltering in one of the hottest of summer days.

On the final roll call several senators said to oppose prohibition voted for the resolution, desiring, they said, to have the wet and dry battle transferred from the national capitol to the states and to prevent prohibition propaganda from impeding other matters before congress.

The charge of assault and battery against Charles Pea was dismissed in police court this morning.

COAL PRODUCTION BEING CURTAILED

Committee of State Defense Council Arranges For Conference to Iron Out Trouble

4,000 MINERS ARE ON STRIKE

Tentative Plans For Formation of State Guard Companies Are Under Consideration

Indianapolis, August 2.—Will J. Freeman, of Terre Haute, representing the coal production committee of the State Council of Defense through the Public Service Commission, today arranged for a conference between President Jackson of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad and President E. Stewart of the United Mine Workers, in an effort to arrange for the return of 4,000 miners to their places and prevent the further curtailment of coal production in the state. Mr. Freeman reported to the State Council that because of the failure of the railroad to comply with an order of the Public Service Commission to furnish the miners with coaches in which to ride to and from their work, the men had refused to work. The commission's order that a part of the necessary coaches be provided in sixty days, which time is now up, and the remainder as soon as possible, Mr. Freeman said had not been observed.

"Although the subject is a delicate one, I feel that I would not be doing my full duty to this council if I did not mention the very great danger of a serious coal shortage in Indiana next winter without any reference to the question of price," said H. R. Kurrie, president of the Monon railroad and a member of the council. Mr. Kurrie added that the coal mines are not producing coal enough to fill all the cars his road might supply, and coal is not being stored for domestic purposes although the road was meeting 100 percent of the demand. He said that consumers should be aroused to the situation before the cold weather interferes with the efficiency of the railroads and the demand cannot be supplied at any price. Mr. Freeman said the average car supply in Indiana now was "only about 70 percent."

Following Mr. Kurrie's statement Evans Woolen moved that the special coal committee of the council confer with Governor James P. Goodrich with a view to making public some definite statement on the coal situation. The committee, of which William G. Irwin is chairman, conferred with the Governor and promised a report and statement at the next session of the council Wednesday of next week.

In reply to an inquiry presented to the council by Charles Fox, as coming from the mine workers, as to what "enemy influences" referred to in a recent appeal to coal producers for a maximum of tonnage, were at work in the state, it was stated by Mr. Kurrie that recently dynamite was found in a car load of coal with wires protruding at the surface; and Mr. Freeman reported a request from local No. 2 of Bicknell asking that steps be taken to guard against the introduction of poisonous gases into the mine shaft, jeopardizing the lives of the miners.

Tentative plans for the formation of state guard companies were presented to the council by E. M. Wilson, chairman of the committee on military affairs. The proposed new military organizations would consist of fifty men with three officers to each company; between 18 and 45 years of age and exempt from federal conscription; meetings to be held weekly with at least 60 percent of membership present; service to be without pay except upon special assignment by the Governor.

Jas L. Keach, of the food production and distribution committee, discussing the potato situation said that the reason that commission men do not buy Indiana potatoes for market is that the Indiana crop is not grown for commercial purposes, is not graded and shipped in car lots. This was in explanation of the failure of certain Indiana growers to find a market for their product at a price proportionate to the retail price in Indianapolis and other large cities. He said Indiana farmers will not haul their crop for less than $5 per barrel while Virginia growers are today offering car lots at $2.85 per barrel.

Speakers will be sent over the state to urge the importance of organizing the United States Boy's Working Reserve, at the instance of Isaac D. Straus, Indiana director of this work. Mr. Straus stated that certain Indiana communities do not realize that the Boy's reserve must be depended upon to replace the man-power soon to be withdrawn for service in the army. The utilization of boys and girls for service as waiters in hotels, restaurants etc., is another phase of the work under consideration. Indiana chautauquas will be addressed upon the purpose and importance of this work. It is expected that a means of free transportation by volunteer automobile fleets will be worked out for the enrolled boys, by Mr. Straus.

Frankfort, August 2.—Frankfort is dry. So when Edgar Ward, charged with intoxication, told the city court judge in reply to a question that he bought his liquor "at several places around town," the court was considerably surprised.

"Where do you think you are?" queried the judge.

"Why, in Indianapolis, of course," Ward replied.

"One dollar and costs," the court ordered, after the shock had passed.
